

LEISA MOLLOY

Masters-qualified Workplace Psychologist, Facilitator, Leadership Coach and Organisational Development Consultant

Helping leaders navigate important workplace relationships & conversations

THE BACK STORY...

Leisa Molloy is a self confessed TOTAL nerd when it comes to anything relating to psychology, leadership, performance and workplace behaviour. She is a registered and fully qualified psychologist, with a Masters in Organisational Psychology plus has loads of certifications in various psychometrics and tools.

For over 17 years Leisa has been working as a Consulting Psychologist, Coach and Facilitator in the areas of organisational and positive psychology, neuroscience, leadership, employee engagement and motivation, behavioural change, and learning and development.

Leisa now spends most of her time helping leaders and their teams to become more skilled, self-aware, and 'human' in the way they communicate with each other and navigate important workplace conversations, with a focus on building trust, clarity, connection and psychological safety.

Along with having facilitated over 180 workshops and worked with 1000+ participants and 400+ leaders over the last few years, Leisa has also conducted over 170 leadership assessments.

Throughout the years she has helped numerous organisations to manage talent, build leadership capability, define critical behaviours and attributes, brought to life in a highly engaging and pragmatic approach.

"A big focus in my work is providing practical resources, tools and skills for participants to take away and apply on-the-job in their 'real life' work environment - after all, that's where the learning really happens!"
